Alma Mater

For you dear Norcom, we declare
A love that's ever true.
Allegiance Alma Mater dear
We justly swear to you.
Deep in our hearts you hold a place
No other school can hold
Forever and a day we're yours,
Yes, yours a thousand fold.

Instructions you have given us
From us they'll never depart
Intelligent you'll make us all
To love you teach the heart
To set our ideals high you say
Will make us a success
Our training all we owe to you
The school that we love best.

The "Heart of the School" is a focal point for all Norcom students.

The Legend Lives On

Through the years, I.C. Norcom High School, named in honor of the famous Black educator Mr. Israel Charles Norcom, has graduated hundreds of intelligent young people. These young people have grown to produce a generation of new Norcom students. Norcom has a tradition of excellence with its honor graduates going on to become city leaders and successful businessmen and women. The 1991-92 school year brought good news to Norcom alumni, students, and teachers. Plans are in the works for a new I.C. Norcom High School. Regardless of the building's location, the caliber of students, administrators, and teachers has never changed. The legend began with the first Norcom student. Times and people have changed, but one thing has not - the legacy of Greyhound excellence. It is evident today in the halls of Norcom and the hearts of all within them that THE LEGEND LIVES ON.

Faith Boyd gives it her all as she cheers during a pep rally.

This is What Legends Are Made Of

The legend lives on as the Greyhounds hit the books striving to achieve the highest standards. A high percentage of the student body is in the band and of that large number, many make the honor roll. Not only do they achieve in the academic world, but they are involved in time-consuming after-school activities and jobs.

The life of a Greyhound student does not end at the last bell of the school day, but continues as long as we are in the public's eye. From the football games to band day, to prom night, the public is always looking to the students of Norcom to lead the way in being respectable and upholding the legendary Norcom Pride. We as Greyhounds strive to uphold our reputable name.

Kimberly Hasty, Dawn Nixon, Kevin McMillan, and Leigh Burton enjoy an after-school treat at Pizza Hut.

Shannon Burnham and Rebecca Eavis cheer the Greyhounds on to victory.

Michael Jenkins, Dawn Nixon, Rodney Granger, and Kris Colander are dressed to impress on prom night.

Halloween Fever

There are many special occasions at Norcom, but one that is most celebrated at Norcom besides St. Valentine's Day and Christmas is Halloween.

On Halloween, there are ghost ghoolies and goblins running all over the school. If you're in the right place at the right time, you can catch a glimpse of a witch or two flying on her broomstick.

Students and teachers celebrate the occasion by dressing up and passing out candy, not to mention consuming vast quantities of candy. Students dress up as a variety of characters, from witches and ghosts to Draculas and clowns. Although the work doesn't 'let up' on Halloween, Greyhounds enjoy observing the occasion in various ways.

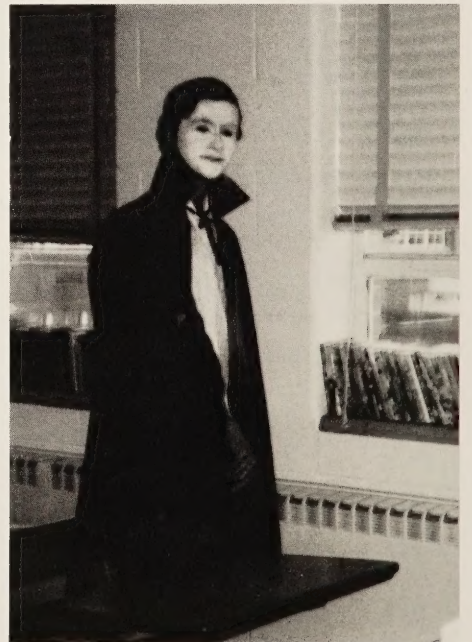

Craig Patillo, a sophomore; Graymond Perdue, a senior; and Andre Perry, a sophomore, share the same taste in looks.

David Smith, a junior, shows the classic Dracula look. He had better bite someone quick, he looks kind of pale!!

The football team sings a pre-game chant—who knows the words?

Mr. Gibson displays his rapping ability as he does the "Greyhound Rap."

Ms. Buck shows no shame as she struts her stuff for the crowd.

The Seniors definitely have the spirit as they await their turn for the "Shu-Wally-Wally."

Eugene Hairston leads the football team in showing off their outstanding season.

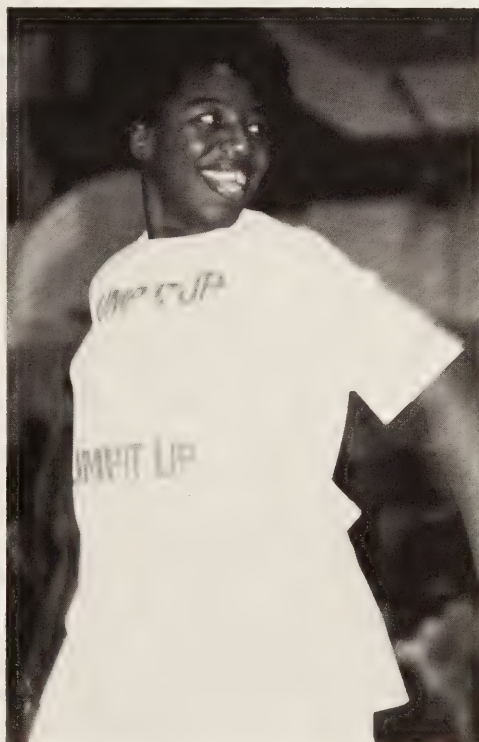

Greyhound Pep Rallies . . .

Are 2 Hype!

What is a pep rally? A pep rally is a way to get the student body and football team ready for the big game. At Norcom, though, it is something different. A Norcom pep rally is a spirited song and dance spectacular highlighted by the fighting Greyhound football players and the number one band in the district. A Norcom pep rally is like no other. Teachers, students, and administrators work together to put on a show that is certain to liven up even the dreariest of days.

The pep rally starts off with a few band selections to get the eyes opened and ears perked. The band then performs throughout the pep rally. The varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders do their Norcom cheers to galvanize the crowd. No pep rally is complete without a spirited student body. The students, along with the band, faculty, and football team, are what make Norcom pep rallies two steps above the rest.

Sharon Ore has the spirit as the cheerleaders perform a dance routine.

The band is always on the right foot when performing "Norcom Pride."

The Drum Section keeps the beat as the band plays "Let's the Beat Hit 'Em."

Natalie Goodman presents the guest speaker, Ms. Robertson, with a token of Norcom's appreciation of her participation.

Dr. Jeter, Natalie Goodman, and Ms. Robertson sit attentively as Mr. Knight prepares the Gospel Choir to sing.

Tyrone Copeland relaxes after leading the audience in a responsive reading.

Ms. Robertson seems to be enjoying herself.

FEBRUARY

A Celebration of Afro-Americans

This February, Mrs. Walton's Black History class planned an assembly to recognize African Americans and their contributions in the world throughout history. This year's guest speaker was Ms. Celeste Robertson, a 1965 graduate of Norcom, who served in the Peace Corp for seven years and served twenty years for the Foreign Service State Department in Washington, D. C.

Ms. Robertson encouraged the student body to strive to become the leaders of tomorrow in an assembly which was the culmination of a month dedicated to recognizing the contributions of African Americans. Having a month to concentrate on these accomplishments was inspired by Carter Woodson. Throughout the month of February, students wrote research reports, acted out skits, put up bulletin boards, and focused on the contributions of African Americans, some of whom are grandmothers, grandfathers, aunts, and uncles. By realizing the accomplishments of others, hopefully our students can realize that they, too, are capable of great things.

Shikena Greene shows her acting ability as she gives a monologue about "Watermelon".

Fashion

Here at Norcom there are many fashions and to name them all is nearly impossible. But here are a few of the hottest on the list. In jeanswear and jackets, "Guess" and "Used" are the most popular favorites of both girls and boys. In shirts, boys are wearing "Structure", "Polo", "Champion", and Paisley designs. In girls, shirts with gems and rhinestones are the most popular followed by "Sheer", "Champion", and many "Structure" designs. Accessories for girls include gems and rhinestones and large earrings. The most popular athletic shoes include "Asics", "Nike", "Reebok", and "Jordan". And there you have it—what's worn by a Norcom Greyhound.

Ronald Thomas, Jr. is about to "jet" in his structure shirt and "Guess" jeans.

Greg Phillips is "stylin' and profilin'" in his Tommy Hillfiger shirt and suave "Polo" jacket.

Hair

There are many ways a lady Norcomite can wear her hair and we've searched "high" and "low" to come up with a few of the many ways our "Dos" can be done. Some of these hair styles include French rolls in which hair is rolled in the back or on top. Wraps are another hot style where the hair is slightly bent but straight all around—a very soft, sleek look. Next we have sister curls which is a remake of the "Shirley Temple" look. Hair is set in rows for a look of perfection.

Pony tails are also a hot look. Hair is in a single pony tail with curls—hard or soft. And last but definitely not least is the hot and growing look of bob wigs. Wigs may be long or short and the majority of wigs that are worn are bob wigs ranging from black to auburn. This is a wonderful alternative when our own hair is a little "under the weather" or we may just be waiting to get our hair done. The most popular place to get your hair done is VIP, for us very important people.

Derricke Newsome doesn't mind our interrupting her lunch for a quick shot of her sleek French bun.

Tanisha Wiggins models her sophisticated crimped bun.

Latrice Griffin wears her own version of "Shirley Temple" curls.

Melba Newby portrays her own stylish cut as she smiles brightly for our camera.

Valentine's Day Fun

Alina Saunders enjoys her gifts from her only man, Ronald "Flirt" Thomas. I think he wants her for his Valentine, and I think she proudly accepts.

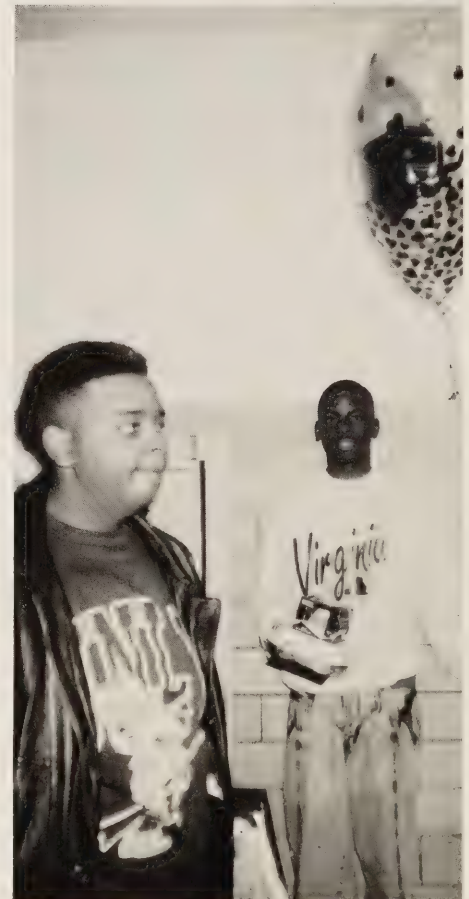

Tawanda Deberry is really loved as you can see! The card is half her size and the bear is as big as she.

Tracey Boone looks radiant.

Larry Staton looks like he's loved.

Valentine's Day

Valentine's Day at Norcom is a very blessed and special occasion. It isn't only a day to show the ones we love how much we love them through buying them gifts, but it is also the day the females SHOW OFF!!! There can be quite a competition between the girls to see what their male friends buy them, but also there is a competition between the guys to see who buys his girl the biggest and best things.

Regardless of which girls and guys receive which presents, all the Greyhounds were able to get together and support the SCA by buying tickets for a Valentne's dance. Students were able to "celebrate" Valentine's Day together while they also supported their student government association. Being able to get together for a dance was a treat for everyone.

Well, we love you, too, Tonia Copeland. Do you think it's big enough, Haywood Stowe?

Crystal Roulhac is proud of her dozen roses from a secret admirer. If anybody's wondering why she got them—"Cause she's rollin' like that!"

performed, including Radiah Scott, Monique Sawyer, Walter Coley, Martina White, LaTe' Clark, and Khunyesha Hawkins. Marcus Bell also made an appearance as a rap singer and instrumentalist. The homecoming nominees dazzled the audience in their beautiful dresses and handsome tuxedos. After the votes were tallied and the finalists were named, the student body gathered to sing the Alma Mater. This homecoming assembly symbolized yet another event that marked the end of the "Norcom Experience" for our seniors.

This year's homecoming was full of excitement — from the homecoming court to the very last second of the game.

The homecoming court showed off the elegance and pride of Norcom's students. Kimberly Hasty and Melvin Cotton represented the freshman class. Tori Cherry and Kevin McMillan represented the sophomore class, and Adrienne Granger and Leigh Burton represented the junior class. Jorvelle Leary and Dawn Nixon were crowned Mr. and Miss Homecoming 1991-1992.

The homecoming game was a victorious one. The Greyhounds caged the wildcats 27-0.

Legends of Tomorrow

We here at Norcom are from all parts of Portsmouth. We are a mixture of all the different styles and different types of people. Our school is full of talent, and it uses its talent to better itself. With the new ideas each freshman class brings, the school grows. The students here are special - we care about the school and each other.

We strive to do our best so that the legend of Norcom will continue. We hope as students of Norcom that the Greyhound Spirit will carry on in our hearts as well as in a new school bearing the name I. C. Norcom High School, in which the children of Portsmouth will not be denied the chance to develop their talents and fulfill their dreams. From the new freshmen to the senior class, we strive to keep the legend of excellence at Norcom High School alive.

Why Did You Choose Norcom? Seniors Are Polled

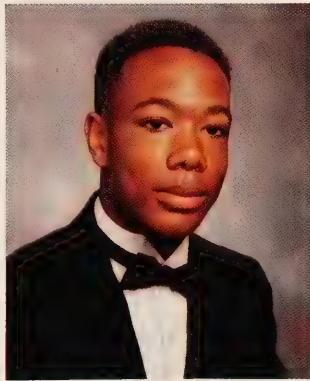

Why did you choose Norcom? When asked that question, Norcom Seniors answered very quickly and assertively.

Some students answered, "because of family tradition". Many parents as well as older sisters and brothers are Norcom graduates. Norcom provides puzzled eighth-graders with a choice in high schools. Norcom is a school their parents trusted to help shape themselves into the young mature adults they are today.

Other students answered, "because I heard of all the fun and love that Norcom has to offer". Norcom pep rallies, dances, sports and other social events as well as the "family-like" atmosphere are well known city-wide. Students realize that they are in school to learn; they are also aware that all work and no play is no fun. There is a compromise which works to everyone's advantage.

Still, other responses to the question why did they choose Norcom, were "to take the Norcom Challenge". Norcom students are challenged every day of their high school careers to be the best that they can be. They feel that this challenge is stressed more at Norcom than at their zoned schools. Not only do Norcom students have a hard task in front of them, but they have their peers who are faced with the same task to help them along the way.

Seniors On The Move

Girls' Tennis

Sports and success always seem to go hand in hand. This was proven again this year by the Norcom Girls' Tennis team. Nichole Robertson, Anne Horne, and the rest of the team have put Norcom on the map in yet another area. Nichole and Anne have been playing since their freshman years under Coach Mr. Joseph Lovera. They have gone from being beginning tennis players to a second seed doubles team. Anne Horne earned a third seed in the Southeastern District. This is a true accomplishment to complete their senior year. Nichole credits her mother, Coach Lovera, and Coach "Never Say Can't" Langston. Anne credits her father, her private coach, family, and friends for her success.

Nichole and Anne are also accomplished in the classroom. Nichole is currently enrolled in German I, Public Speaking, and Sociology, in addition to her required courses. She plans to attend Spelman College and major in International Relations. Anne is currently enrolled in Advanced Placement Chemistry and English. She plans to attend Notre Dame. College Bound Cornelius Jackson

Cornelius Jackson is truly college bound. Most high school seniors never see the inside of a college until after high school. Since Norcom students always go a step further than the rest, it was no surprise that Norcom's Cornelius "Duck" Jackson visited Howard University this summer. Cornelius was the only student from this area asked to visit Howard for a workshop in mathematics. The workshop was for students who do well in school and exceptionally well in math. It is designed to enrich math skills and help prepare students for a career in math. Cornelius represented his school and his area with great pride and talent.

The Stowe Twins

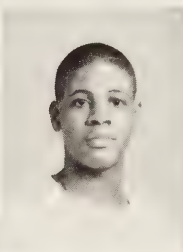

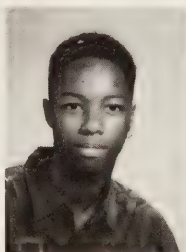

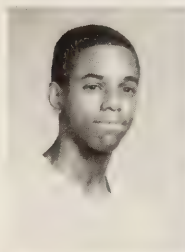

A Winning Combination

Haywood and Edwood Stowe were born October 2, 1974. The 17-year-old juniors live in the Longpoint area of Churchland. With 4.0 grade point averages, they are two of the most promising members of the junior class.

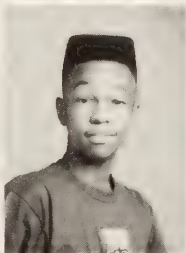

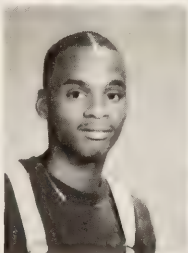

Haywood and Edwood are members of the National Honor Society in which Edwood serves as Vice President. They are also members of the SCA, French Club, and the Academic Challenge Team. In addition to those academic activities, the two of them still find time to be members of the tennis team and play cello for the school and TAM orchestras.

Haywood and Edwood Stowe may be identical twins with identical lifestyles but their success as students is the product of their hard work and determination individually.

The Backbone of the Class of '93

The Junior Class officers consist of the following: Latricia Smith, President; Edwood Stowe, Vice President; Luchana McCoy, Recording Secretary; Kermita

Evans, Corresponding Secretary; and Mrs. Ophelia Walton, Sponsor.

These outgoing juniors work diligently to plan fundraisers and start them. They plan the Prom and after-prom party. They keep up with records and books. Most of all they try to maintain a balanced budget.

In the future when you see famous doctors, lawyers, technicians and judges from the class of '93 then you'll know it was the work of the junior class officers that encouraged these students on their way.

The Sophisticated Sophomores

The sophomore class is the largest and arguably the best class at I.C. Norcom High School. It consists of many intelligent and versatile young men and women.

When you say the word sophomore, you think about a fun, carefree year of high school. But this year's group of sophomores is not all play. In addition to being the best in the sophomore class some sophomores are standouts in other areas. For example, Antonio Ricks, Larry Staton, and Oneal Sykes were some of our leading varsity football players. Laurence Lewis, our current valedictorian, took a Calculus class at Churchland High School—a class that usually only juniors and seniors are ready to take. Kevin McMillan and Tim Morgan were "star" varsity wrestlers, and Tim Morgan placed fourth in the Portsmouth Invitational Tournament in the 119 weight class. Danielle Shelton was a standout in girls basketball. Oneal Sykes was a standout in varsity basketball, making the pages of Portsmouth's newspapers. In track, James Edmonds and Tonya Hinton raced to glory.

To put it frankly, the sophomore class is not only sound academically, but also athletically. Look out for the class of '94.

First Impressions

The First Day at I.C. Norcom

Danielle Smith said, "I was scared the first day because I did not know what to expect."

On the first day of school, especially during the freshman year, everyone has his own first impression. Even seniors remember what they were thinking when they set foot in the halls of I.C. Norcom High School the first time. When she was asked of her first impression of Norcom, senior, Nicole Robertson responded, "They (other students) thought I was a teacher and I didn't like that." Senior Denise Lassiter said "I was glad I was finally in a high school that I liked."

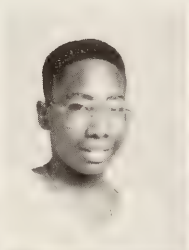

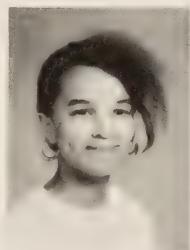

Some current juniors responded in a different way. Latricia Smith answered the question by saying, "I was scared because people told me as a freshman they would 'dog' me. I got lost a lot but it was different. Maybe it was because I knew many upper classmen through the band. The people were actually nice."

Of the sophomores that were interviewed, Nakya Dozier said "I was scared because you see all upperclassmen lining the halls looking down at the freshmen. Another sophomore, Diehdre Gregory, said "I was glad to be here, but I was scared, too."

A freshman, Danielle Smith, responded to the question asked by saying "I was scared the first day I arrived because I did not know what to expect."

The freshmen have one consolation, though, and that is that no matter how scared they are as freshmen, the feeling doesn't last long. All too soon, those freshmen years are over and graduation is approaching.

A FABULOUS FRESHMAN

Melanie Harrell is quite a diverse young lady. She is an honor roll student here at Norcom, and she has many talents. She participates in the orchestra, playing the second violin part. She also helps her family by working part-time in their bakery, Janet's Bakery. She is also an accomplished artist, winning many awards for her talent. Most recently, she was among several Norcom students who received recognition for murals presented to the Chesapeake Auto Museum. In addition to receiving a certificate, she and the other members received monetary awards. The other members were: Erica Potts, Avril Myers, Antonio Sunkins, and Rebecca Davis. Melanie Harrell is a fabulous freshman.

"Who said we can't use calculators. . . ?"

"Hey you, stop staring at me. . . ." Monique Sawyer is a very inquisitive participant during an Oceanography Field Trip.

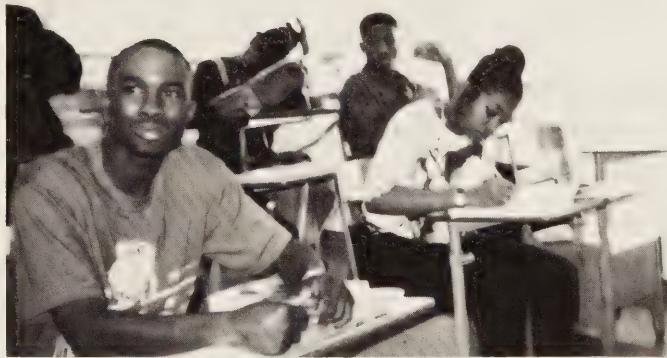

Still a Legend.

Norcom High School, known for its emphasis on academics, is still a legend. At Norcom, the students prepare for college or a career. The "career areas," as they are called, consist of Early Childhood Education, Computer and Business Applications, Life Sciences, Electronics and Pre-Engineering, Masonry, Carpentry, Automotive Technology, and Nursing.

The Students and faculty at Norcom, with the support of the parents and the community, strive for excellence in academics. The tradition of excellence at Norcom continues.

Adrienne Granger finishes that last minute paper while Rodney Granger waits for the lunch bell.

Ms. Buck demonstrates to her class the fine art of Chemistry.

Test-taking is habitual at Norcom - for these students it's ACADEMIC.

Students Concentrate on Academics

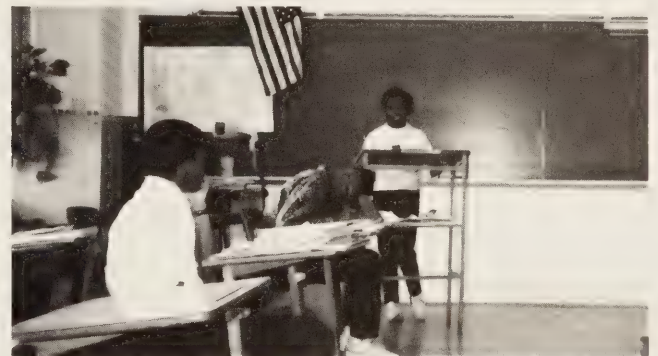

The 1991-1992 school year began with a new principal and many new students. With the help of the new principal and a rested teaching staff, students started off the year with a concentration on academics. As classes began to formulate, teachers stressed the importance of scholastic achievement and good study habits.

A new program was introduced at Norcom this year. The RISE (or SOS as some teachers renamed it for "Strengthening Our Students" program gave students a full class period to catch up on missed assignments, to begin homework, or to receive extra help from their teachers. Placing importance on excelling in every class, students used the new RISE period to work to their advantage. RISE was also an advantage for teachers who no longer had to worry about make-up work building up at the end of a six weeks.

The new "head-on" approach to academics was a big success. With over fifty per cent of seniors on the honor roll for the first three six week periods and an overwhelming amount of underclassmen on the honor roll as well, Norcom students truly CONCENTRATED ON ACADEMICS this year.

Football players and students alike use RISE to get extra help.

Angela Jones delivers her speech to the English class.

David Hart, Chanda Yarbrough, and Shannon Williams are hard at work in Mrs. Welsh's class.

Mr. Butts volunteered his time to announce the questions for the Academic Challenge Team meets, which were held after school.

During Drug and Alcohol Awareness Week, there were a few symbolic "fatalities" at Norcom.

Although these fatalities were fictitious, many Greyhounds got the message about the importance of staying drug-free.

Many Greyhounds stayed away from "Dr. Death".

Legendary Support

Although Academics and Sports kept students very busy this year, many students still made time to participate in extra-curricular activities. Most students had to stay after school sometimes and find rides home in order to be a club member, but clubs also took advantage of the RISE period to congregate and finish any pressing business. The clubs were as diverse as the students - from Orchestra to Greyhounds Against Drugs and Alcohol. The Greyhounds supported individual clubs and each other in fundraisers, which provided food, money for trips, uniforms, contributions to the Heart Fund, yearbooks, and rental money for an after prom party. Greyhounds took advantage of the opportunity to try new things.

Mrs. Waring-Sorrell conducted the orchestra, which met after school.

Who Has That Spirit?

The I. C. Norcom cheering squads are the best in this district. They are an integral part of the Norcom experience, encouraging students to be proud of their school, and helping students to express their encouragement and pride for our athletic teams.

Sponsored by Mrs. Zelene Bell and Dr. Patton, the Varsity cheer-leading squad consists of eleventh and twelfth grade students. Its membes include:

The "Versatile One Hundred" Never Skips a Beat

The I.C. Norcom Marching Greyhounds have always been part of Greyhound tradition. The Marching Greyhounds, under the direction of Mr. Kevin Davenport, have been nothing short of victorious this marching season. In addition to "wowing" other visiting bands at Frank D. Lawrence Stadium and surprising home team bands at other stadiums, the band marched on to victory in many district competitions.

The Marching Greyhounds were simply outstanding this year. In the 1991 Fishbowl Parade Competition, the band won First Place, to top off a Norcom 36-3 victory over Booker T. Washington High School. At Nansemond River Band Day, the band earned a first place for the Majorettes, first place for the Drum Major category and first place as an overall band, besting their arch-rival band from Woodrow Wilson High School. Finally, at Norfolk State University Band Day, the band won first place in the Dance Girls, Majorettes, and Flag categories, third place in the Drum Major category, and first place in the overall band competition.

We at I.C. Norcom High School are proud to host such an outstanding band at Norcom. This year, our "Versatile One Hundred" was SIMPLY OUTSTANDING!!!

Drum Majors Lamont Bullock and Bernard Smith strike a pose with Saber Girl Yolanda Riddick.

The brass and percussion sections are happy after an "Unforgettable" halftime performance.

Dance girls Tierney Bentley, Kunyesha Hawkins, and Katrina Whitaker are simply elegant during halftime.

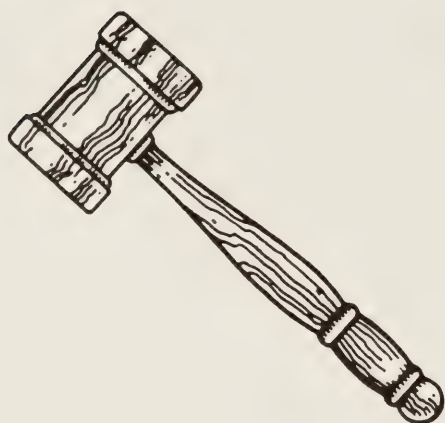

The drum section performs for a Homecoming crowd as Dana Stephenson, Sharonda Mills, and Curtis Felton march on.

Donna Mabry and Latoya Lee perform "Let the Beat Hit 'Em" to dazzle yet another audience.

The band cheers for the football team after a tough penalty.

The FBLA

The Future Business Leaders of America had another successful year. The officers were Keisha Townes, president; Nakya Dozier, vice president; Cheryl Wilson, secretary; Kelli Walton, treasurer; Lamica Fuller, historian/reporter; and Gathan Robinson, parliamentarian.

The FBLA believes that education is the right of every person, and that the future depends upon mutual understanding and cooperation between business, industry, labor, religion, family, and educational institutions. FBLA has definitely been an opportunity for students to prepare for the future by taking on responsibilities and making connections between the academic and business communities.

The SCA

The SCA or Student Council Association is a big part of student life. SCA members try to help fellow students with concerns dealing with classroom problems and teachers.

The SCA officers are Chertonda Norman, president; Haywood Stowe, vice president; Kunesha Hawkins, secretary; Edwood Stowe, parliamentarian; Tracey Savage, treasurer; and Nakya Dozier, co-treasurer. The SCA student advisors are Oneika Lawrence, Monica Jones, Harold Dubose, and Trista Lewis. The SCA sponsor is Mr. Joseph Knight.

Besides being a big factor in school, the SCA is a big factor in the community. SCA members visited Beverly Manor Nursing Home two Mondays a month. The SCA also helped with the food for the needy campaign by giving a dance and asking everyone to bring at least one can of food in order to get into the dance. The SCA also sponsored a Heart Fund Dance on February 14, 1992, to bring people together and raise funds for the Heart Fund.

The 1991-92 Norcom SCA has impacted the school and the community.

Sororities and Fraternities

The students at Norcom are involved in many academic courses and extracurricular activities, including those that are not recognized by the school. Sororities and Fraternities are not affiliated with the school and members of these groups do not meet at school.

These organizations are very active in the community. They give food to the homeless during holidays, and they donate money and their services to the community.

In the home, fraternity and sorority members maintain respect for their parents and elders. They do their household chores and return to their homes at respectable hours.

In school they strive for academic and athletic excellence. Most of the sororities require their members to maintain a certain grade point average in order to go "on line". Going "on line" refers to the trial period before a pledge is accepted into a fraternity or sorority.

There are many sororities and fraternities at Norcom. The sororities are: The Lady Executives, Inc.; Ebone; The Ambassadors; The Xino's; and The Lady Associates. The fraternities are: The Executives, the Emperors, The Kudo's, and the Associates.

The individuals involved in these organizations have great dignity and pride. The main purpose of these organizations is to raise the standard of the black woman and black man in today's society. Individuals who belong to these organizations believe that in order to enable themselves to succeed they need to associate themselves with others who share their goals. These organizations prepare the students for their personal and professional lives by instilling in them the values of helping your fellow man or woman. They also provide opportunities for leadership training. While these organizations are not recognized or supported by the school, they are a part of the extra-curricular activities of Norcom's students.

LEGENDS OF TOMORROW

All of the I.C. Norcom athletic teams have something to be proud of - from football to golf - whether it is their records, their improvement, or their raw talent.

During the football season, the Mighty Norcom Greyhound football team led the Southeastern District in rushing, scoring, offense, defense. Our quarterback, Rodney Granger, lead the district in rushing, as well. The football team finished the season with a record of 9-1, and crushed the Bethel Bruins in postseason play, to complement their winning season.

The athletes of I. C. Norcom High School have proven themselves this year, from the fall to the spring in such varied sports as football, golf, tennis, track, softball, baseball, and indoor track.

To all of these athletes, we congratulate you and exhort you to continue to shoot for the moon and even if you miss, you will still be among the stars of tomorrow.

Larry Staton completes a pass as he is tackled by a Booker T. defensive lineman.

THE MIGHTY GREYHOUNDS

The Mighty Greyhound Varsity Football team completed a very successful season in second place in the district. The team beat every opponent except for its rival, the Wilson Presidents.

Winning its homecoming game and the Turkey Bowl, the football team's play extended into exciting post-season games against the Bethel Bruins in Hampton and the Wilson Presidents. Several star players were Rodney Granger, the quarterback, Antonio Ricks, a leading rusher in the district, Lamont Burns, who caught several key passes, Pierre Jordan, also a leading rusher, and Kevin Thomas and Eugene Hairston, both of whom were important offensive and defensive players. Oneal Sykes, a sophomore, was able to relieve Rodney Granger as the team's quarterback during some regular season games, giving him some good practice for next year.

While many of the star football players will graduate this year, most of the same players will return next year, in addition to the players coming from Cradock High School. Many exciting things are in store for Norcom's football program. According to Coach Langston, who has trained and coached many players that have gone on to play at colleges and universities, "Success in our football program is not optional at I. C. Norcom."

Lamont Burns dives to catch a touchdown pass as Larry Staton runs behind him.

Head Coach: Coach Joe Langston.

GOLF

Coached by Mr. Borick, the golf team suffered a lack of participation this year. Despite the small team, however, Mr. Borick was pleased with the improvement and performance of his golfers. David Smith was the "medalist" for the team, or the golfer with the best score. Hopefully next more students will represent Norcom on the golf team.

GIRLS' TENNIS

Anne Horne executes another great groundstroke.

Although the girls' tennis team did not have a winning season, the number one doubles team of Nichole Robertson and Anne Horne were district runners up. Other team members were Denise Lassiter and Shannon Burnham. Coached by Mr. Lovera, the girls' tennis team will also need more players to improve the team standing.

During the district title match, Anne displayed a "never-give-up" attitude.

J.V. Basketball

The Men's Junior Varsity team was coached by Coach Ralph Richardson. The leading scorer of the season was Reggie Demps, and the leading rebounder was Terrence Oxendine. The starting five players were Reggie Demps, Terrence Oxendine, Roderick Richardson, Aric Pope, and Jason Taylor. The men's team finished the season with a respectable 'five hundred' record.

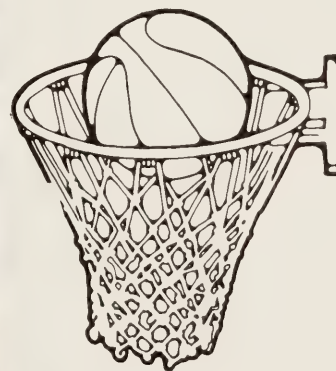

The Women's Junior Varsity team was coached by Ms. Nancy Sheehan. The high scorer of the season was Tanesia Mack. The most improved player on the team was Luciana Stewart.

Based on the performance of these basketball players this year, there is a lot of promise for the future teams. Many of the players will move up to be a part of the varsity teams next year. Still other players will remain on the Junior Varsity squads for another year and gain more experience before they become members of the Varsity squads.

Varsity Track

The Varsity Track team had a successful season. Both the men's and women's track team qualified for the district tournament at Churchland stadium. The men's team competed in the regionals tournament at Todd's Stadium in Newport News, Virginia. Two of the members of the women's team qualified for the state tournament.

Angela Jones improved in the 500m race, finishing in fourth place at the beginning of the season and by the end of the season finishing in second place. Tonya Hinton, a sophomore and a standout sprinter, was also hard to beat. Nichole Robertson, who was a member of the district runner up doubles (tennis) squad, was also an outstanding shotputter, qualifying for the state tournament.

The 4X2 relay team, which consisted of Terry Ricks, Graymond Perdue, Pierre Jordan, and Alonzo McGlone, was outstanding. Jerome Beale held his own in the 500m race.

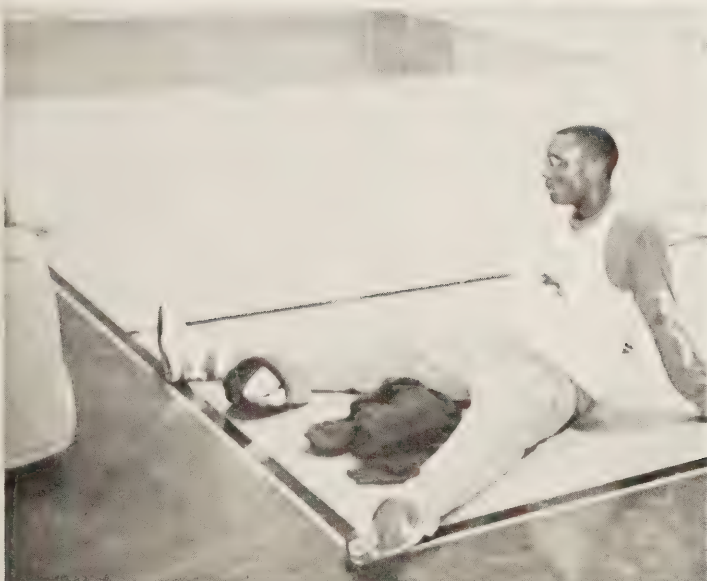

Participating in the winter track season prepared the athletes for the outdoor track season, which began in March. Athletes that participated in the winter track season honed their skills and conditioned their bodies to be ready for the spring season.

Varsity Sports

The men's team tied Deep Creek and Western Branch High Schools for the Southeastern District Championship. Elgren Greene was the leading scorer, scoring approximately 17 points per game. O'Neal Sykes was a close second, scoring 13 points per game. Ahmed Wadsworth averaged about 11 points per game. Larry Staton specialized in defense, causing many turnovers and giving his team possession of the ball. Michael Jenkins led the team in rebounds.

The women's Varsity team was coached by Coach Henry Broady. Yolanda Dubose was the high scorer and the best rebounder. Kelli Wilson was responsible for the most turnovers. Three sophomores, Danielle Shelton, Andrea Byred, and Tiffany Ratcliff were key offensive and defensive players. The women's team looks forward to having a winning season in the future.

Men's Baseball: Donald Smith, Marcus Dozier, Lamont Burns, Larry Taylor, Aaron Moore, and Darron Moore, Coach Granger, Rodney Granger, Jerome Beale, Walter Coley, and Coach Shamblee.

Mr. Lovera proudly coaches the faculty team "Dean Smith style".

As you can see Mr. Davenport is a fierce competitor, taking these games very seriously.

Competition

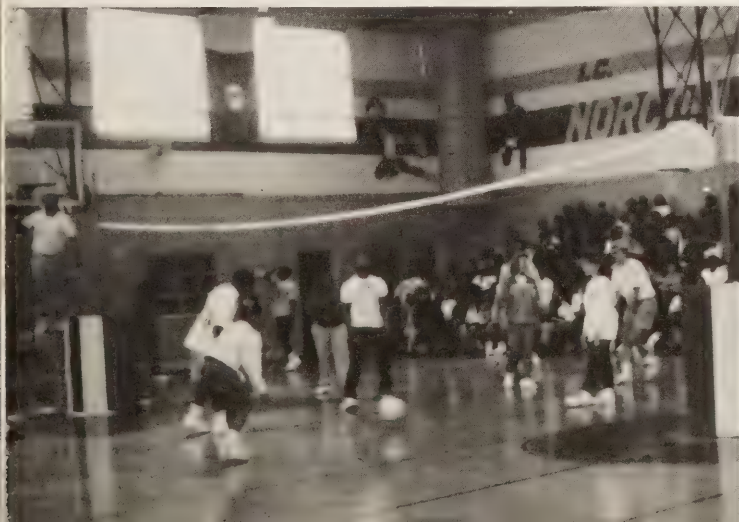

In order to raise money for various groups and causes, students have competed against their teachers in sports such as volleyball, softball, and basketball. In a basketball game, the faculty barely beat the senior class of 1991. The faculty, of course had the support of their administrators, who were the officials.

In a fairer matchup, the faculty took on representatives from each of the classes during Drug and Alcohol Awareness Week. The proceeds from the game paid the rent for a building being used as an alternative after-prom party. The students won the first volleyball game in the best out of three games. Although the next two games were very close, the faculty won both of them. Star spikers were Haywood Stowe and Mr. Davenport, both of whom stuffed the ball on each other when they were on opposite sides of the net. Although Coach Langston fairly officiated the volleyball game, the students were not satisfied with the loss. There may be a grudge match later.

Mr. Davenport gets the attention of his teammate as Mrs. Jones tries to appear impartial.

Mr. Stephenson taps the volleyball over the net, just short of Amy Daniel's position, for a point.

Legends Among Us

The I. C. Norcom alumni have made many important contributions to our community. Our own Ruth Brown won a Tony award in 1990 for her performance in Black and Blue. Other successful graduates of Norcom include Vice Mayor, Mr. E. G. "Tip" Corprew, our former Mayor, Mr. James Holley, III, and our City Manager, Mr. Wayne V. Orton. The city treasurer, Mr. Charles Whitehurst, is also an alumnus of I. C. Norcom High School. Alumnus Bernard Griffin, Sr. is now the chairman of the Portsmouth Public School Board. Circuit Court Judge Johnny Morrison is an alumnus of our great school. There are also graduates who hold positions in the state government. Mr. Martin Bullock, for example, is the Commonwealth's Attorney, and Mrs. Leah Stith is a special assistant to Lt. Governor Don Beyer in addition to being a member of the Portsmouth School Board. These and other graduates have continued to support their alma mater and have worked to ensure that Norcom continues to have a positive impact on its community.

Hometown Hero

In February, an assembly took place honoring Lieutenant General Alonzo Short, a graduate of I. C. Norcom High School. In addition to an assembly in which Lt. General Short was presented with varsity letters, plaques, and a street named after him, there was a parade on High Street in his honor, a service at a local church, and a guest appearance on WAVY 10 for the noon news. Lt. General Short is one of the highest ranking officers in the Army. He was in charge of the communications operation during the Gulf War last year in operation Desert Storm/Desert Shield.

Lt. General Short visited Norcom with a message to the students. He encouraged them to respect their parents, do their homework, and strive to do the very best that they can. He mentioned that one of his first leadership positions was being the captain of the football team. He also told the students that although he earned several advanced degrees, he wished that he had done better academically while he was in high school. He challenged the students to achieve all that they can while they are still in school. He encouraged the students to hold on to their proud heritage and look to the future with hope and expectation for what they will achieve. Lt. General Short is living proof of how far a Greyhound can go.

Roll of Honor

I. C. Norcom "Notables", Mrs. Beulah Carey, Mrs. Donna Darden, Mrs. Helen Edge, Mr. Bernard Griffin, Mrs. Doris Griffin, Miss Deloris Overton, Mrs. Lucy Overton, Dr. Lydia P. Patton, Mr. David Sanford, and Mrs. Leah Stith were honorees.

Mrs. Donna Darden, a Norcom graduate, is very active in the alumni society, in addition to working as an Office Manager at Norcom.

I. C. Norcom Notables

On Tuesday, February 25, 1992, the I. C. Norcom PTSA observed Founder's Day by honoring those people that have made outstanding contributions to Norcom. The honorees were Mrs. Beulah Carey, Mrs. Donna Darden, Mrs. Helen Edge, Mr. Bernard Griffin, Miss Deloris Overton, Mrs. Lucy Overton, Dr. Lydia P. Patton, and Mr. David Sanford. Mrs. Leah Stith, who was not present, was also honored.

Most of these honorees were graduates of Norcom who have continued to impact the school. Mrs. Darden has served as PTSA President and currently works at Norcom. Her daughters also attended Norcom. Mrs. Helen Edge is very active with the alumni society, and Mrs. Stith and Mr. Griffin serve on the School Board. Dr. Patton, a parent of a student currently attending Norcom, has met with students individually for guidance and support. She also gave an encouraging and electrifying speech at an Academic Awards Assembly. Mr. Sanford and Mrs. Carey were teachers have retired but remain very active as educators.

All of these honorees are very much appreciated. They have helped and encouraged students to excel and have provided positive role models.

Miss Deloris Overton continues to support Norcom.

Mrs. Helen Edge has supported Norcom through the alumni society.

Mr. Sanford is a retired educator.

Special thanks to the members of the yearbook staff who worked hard to complete the book, especially those that were committed to staying after school and completing layouts at home. Also, thanks to Mr. Borick for his "unique angles" and willingness to share his talent, and to Mr. Pennington for his enthusiasm over typing the copy.
